

What It Achieved

Ed Archer and Molly Doyle were as children one of those couples we like to read about, but the stories of whose lives are rarely finished by marriage.

There was something enduring about the affair between Ed and Molly. At any rate, it lasted till Ed went away to college, and that is about as long as child loves usually last. In this case there was nothing on either side to indicate that during Ed's college course love was smoldering in his breast or that of his child love. There was no correspondence between them, and if either ever thought of the other no one besides themselves knew it. They missed each other when Ed returned for the only vacation he spent at home, and when he was graduated as a civil engineer a position was ready for him, of which he at once availed himself. Therefore they did not meet from the time he began his studies till two years after he had been backing against the world.

When they did meet Ed was paying attention to a young widow of means. His mother was not well, and he left his work and his charmer to pay the mother a visit. While at home he called on Molly Doyle.

Now, it happened that Molly and Ed's widow had a mutual friend. So when Ed appeared Molly knew all about his intentions, or at least what appeared to be his intentions.

She came down to meet him with a letter in her hand. After greeting him she threw the missive on a table. It was addressed and stamped ready for the mail. Molly wrote a large hand, and it didn't require a microscope to read the name of the person for whom the letter was intended. Indeed, one could decipher it from across an ordinary sized room.

Molly was not especially cordial. She did not let it appear that she expected any return of that sweet interchange of sentiment which marks a child love. Ed made approaches to avoid speaking of it, but met with no encouragement. The conversation turned upon Molly's friend, who was also the widow's friend, and this led to some mention of the latter, but Molly did not speak of her as a matter of interest to her or her visitor. If she had any feeling about the widow she didn't show it.

Ed called a letter a couple of hours. When he arose to depart he asked: "Is the letter on the table for the mail?"

"It is."

"Let me post it for you. I pass the office on my way home."

"Thank you very much." He put it in his pocket and took leave.

The next evening he called, bringing with him some flowers. Molly softened a little at the gift. When he spoke of how many flowers he had given her when they were children she said that now he spoke of it she remembered them very well.

"By the bye," said Ed, "on leaving you last evening I was so engrossed with the pleasure of meeting you again that I forgot to post the letter you committed to my care. I have brought it back to you, thinking that after the delay you might wish to reconsider sending it."

There was an odd look in Molly's eye and a faint tinge of color in her cheek. Instead of looking disturbed over Ed's forgetfulness, she looked rather pleased.

"Tonight as you pass the office will do as well," she said and spoke of other matters.

The next evening Ed called again. This was three evenings in succession. He brought her a more substantial gift than flowers—a glove box, handsomely inlaid. She received it graciously.

"It is for atonement," he said.

"Atonement for what?"

"A bad memory. Again I have forgotten to drop your letter in the mail."

She gave him a forgiving smile—what else could she do after the atoning gift?—and said:

"Oh, it doesn't matter. Put it in as you go by tonight."

"You are very kind not to scold me. I shall keep my mind on it from the time I leave you."

"On the mailing of the letter?"

"The letter."

This evidently meant something more than the words, for Ed spoke them with his eyes fixed on her intently, and she dropped hers to the floor.

During the next call Mr. Archer made upon Miss Doyle he made no mention of the letter—at least until he arose to go. He brought her a gift, but kept it in his pocket till his visit was finished. He had a great deal to say about their childhood days—more, indeed, than he had to say about the eight or nine years that had passed since, during which he had made no effort to communicate with her or to see her. Indeed, on this latter subject he maintained a discreet silence.

It was near midnight when, having told her that he had loved her ever since he was a boy and could never love any one else, he took out his gift—a ring—and slipped it on her finger. She made no objection, since she had consented to a betrothal. Before leaving he threw the letter he had again failed to post on the table.

"Did it contain a 'Yes' or a 'No'?" he asked.

She opened it and displayed a sheet of blank paper.

Governor Meets the Legislative Investigators

SUGGESTS SOME THINGS

To Be Done by Commission—Gaylor Learns of Trade in City Offices.

Einstein Says He Was Paid $1,000 to Resign.

New York, July 27.—Something of a sensation in state political circles was caused yesterday by the news that Governor Charles E. Hughes, who came here from Albany Monday night, was in conference for two hours at the hotel Astor with Assemblyman Edwin A. Merritt, chairman of the joint legislative commission recently named to investigate charges of legislative corruption, and former Lieutenant Governor M. Linn Bruce, the counsel for the committee.

This fact came to light yesterday, when Mr. Bruce announced that the meeting of the commission, originally arranged to be held here yesterday, would not take place until August 2, when the program for the commission's work would probably be definitely decided upon.

SPRECKELS SEES ROOSEVELT.

Former Says He Called Only to Pay His Respects.

New York, July 27.—Theodore Roosevelt, in town from Oyster Bay for his usual Tuesday visit, had the usual stream of callers at his office yesterday. Among them was Rudolph Spreckels of San Francisco, who returned from abroad a few days ago and after his talk with the colonel said he had merely called to pay his respects. Mr. Spreckels said he intended to start for California, where he would have a conference with Gifford Pinchot, the former chief forester, who has gone to take part in the campaign in that state.

Another visitor from a far western point was former Senator Lee Mantle of Montana. The Montana situation came up for discussion between him and Mr. Roosevelt. Mr. Mantle said:

"I am an insurgent and if I had a chance to vote in the senatorial divisions of the last session I would have voted the insurgent way with Senators Cummings and Dooliver, whom I strongly admire."

Col. Roosevelt found himself obliged to decline two more invitations to deliver speeches. One was from a committee in behalf of the national convention of the Rivers and Harbor association, to be held in Washington, and the other was proffered by Earl A. Langer of the committee of the international hygiene exposition, to be held in Dresden in 1911.

The former president was sorry he could not accept either invitation.

Some of Mr. Roosevelt's other callers were Congressman Goulden and Bennett of New York, John Mitchell and William B. Hoggatt, former governor of Alaska.

CRIPPIN IS NOT UNDER ARREST

But Captain of the Montrose Is Confident "Minister and Son" Are the Couple Wanted.

London, July 27.—Dr. Hawley H. Crippen has not been arrested, and Miss Leneve has not confessed, so far as was known by the officials of Scotland yard yesterday. They absolutely discredit published stories to the contrary.

The police have received no word from the steamer Montrose, aboard which are two passengers suspected of being Dr. Crippen and his friend, Ethel Clara Leneve, since last Saturday morning.

No further news of the suspects is expected by the authorities here until the steamer reaches Rimouski, Canada, whither Inspector Daw, aboard the steamer Laurentic, is travelling to have a look at the passengers of the Montrose.

Superintendent Forest said that when he received the wireless message from Capt. Kendall of the Montrose, stating the master's belief that he had Dr. Crippen and Miss Leneve on board, he replied with a message in which he gave the captain the latest description of the man wanted and of the woman who is supposed to be in his company.

Capt. Kendall responded in a second message, saying that he was confirmed in his original belief, that the man known on board the ship as the Rev. John Robinson, was really Dr. Crippen, and that his companion, who was travelling as John Robinson, Jr., was no other than the Leneve woman. That was the last word.

CONSPIRACY TO ROB BANK?

Police Searching for Wider, Who Got Away With $600,000 in Securities.

New York, July 27.—The list of securities stolen from the Russo-Chinese bank, made public yesterday, shows that the much searched for cashier, Edwin Wiler, helped himself to 4500 shares of stock, most of it comprising gilt-edge securities which are worth about $500,000. The police are hot on Wiler's trail, both here and in other cities. Inspector De Markowski of the Russo-Chinese bank thinks that others besides the cashier conspired to rob the bank, and that those who helped him were not connected with the bank.

BREAKING OUT ALL OVER BODY

Itched Dreadfully. When Scratched It Would Bleed and Become Very Sore. Could Scarcely Sleep as the Itching Was Worse at Night. Dreaded Putting Hands in Water.

Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment 3 Weeks. Trouble All Disappeared.

"Some time ago I had a breaking out all over my body. It first started like what we call goose flesh and itched dreadfully. When I scratched it, it would bleed and become very sore. I tried almost everything for the itching but none gave me much relief. I could scarcely sleep as the itching was always worse at night. My hands were so sore I dreaded putting them in water and after I would wash dishes or do laundry work that required the use of other soaps they were always worse. Then I used Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, and in two or three weeks the trouble all disappeared. I always found that my hands were worse (with a dry scale on them) after using any cheap soap but the Cuticura Soap produced such a soothing feeling on my skin that it was a pleasure to use it. I also know what wenders the Cuticura Remedies have done for a friend of mine, so I would recommend them to any one. Mrs. Delaware Barrett, 811 King St., Wilmington, Del., Nov. 15, 1909."

Grand Island, Neb., July 27.—Amid a tumult of cheers from the former followers of William J. Bryan, permanent chairman Smyth of the Democratic platform convention yesterday read the result of a test vote of the gathering, practically taking from Mr. Bryan the Democratic leadership of Nebraska, which he has maintained for 20 years.

The vote came on a motion by Congressman G. M. Hitchcock, a candidate for the senatorial nomination, which was in effect to eliminate the introduction of platform planks, with accompanying speeches, unless submitted as a section of the majority or minority report of the committee on resolutions.

Mr. Bryan, seated as a member of the Lancaster county delegation, rose at once with a protest, and offered an amendment modifying the original motion. A dozen delegates made as many motions, and heated speeches on the subject, the Bryan adherents denouncing the Hitchcock motion as "gag rule" and their opponents asserting that "individual rule" must not prevail in the convention.

Chairman Smyth ordered a roll-call on the amendment, and the gathering was silent as the vote of the counties was called that would determine the strength of Mr. Bryan. When two-thirds had been called, foes of Mr. Bryan realized that he was defeated, and a wave of cheers that drowned the roll-call began. As Chairman Smyth finally read the result, 465 against the amendment to 391 in favor of it, the delegates cheered again. The original motion of Mr. Hitchcock was then adopted.

The temporary organization was made permanent and Chairman Smyth, after a brief speech, selected a committee of resolutions. Mr. Bryan was one of the first two of the committee of seven members.

Congressman Hitchcock then made his motion to restrict discussion. The opponents of Mr. Bryan asserted that if individual introduction of platform planks had been permitted, with speeches on each one, it would have materially delayed the progress of the body.

While they asserted their willingness that he should speak on the minority report, which it was expected to introduce, the action practically prohibited any other speech from him in the convention.

While the committee on resolutions was drafting its report, Governor Shallenberger and Mayor Dahlgren of Omaha, rivals for the nomination for governor, addressed the convention and each hurled verbal shafts at the other.

AEROPLANES WRECKED.

Seven, Stored in a Tent at East St. Louis, Destroyed.

East St. Louis, Ill., July 27.—Seven aeroplanes, stored in a tent at a local park, were demolished Monday night, when a heavy wind storm struck the city.

The Farman bi-plane, with which the French aeroplanist won a world's record, is a total wreck. It was owned by J. W. Currier of Hawthorne, Ill., who won several prizes at the recent aviation meet here. The other machines belonged to local amateurs. The total loss is estimated at $25,000.

The wind blew 60 miles an hour.

MURDER MUST BE SHOWN

Before Rawn's Family Can Receive Insurance Money.

Chicago, July 27.—Accident insurance companies in which the late Ira G. Rawn, of the Monon railroad, carried policies, have finished a full investigation of the claims which might be made on them following Rawn's death. It was also said that the family would not be paid the insurance money until it was proved that Mr. Rawn did not commit suicide.

The total amount of accident insurance is about $181,000, including accumulations. Rawn was the heaviest carrier of accident insurance in Chicago.

Convention, However, Made Him a Member of the Platform Committee.

Test Came on an Amendment.

Grand Island, Neb., July 27.—Amid a tumult of cheers from the former followers of William J. Bryan, permanent chairman Smyth of the Democratic platform convention yesterday read the result of a test vote of the gathering, practically taking from Mr. Bryan the Democratic leadership of Nebraska, which he has maintained for 20 years.

EXPLOSION IN APARTMENT.

Two Persons Burned and Room Demolished in Boston.

Boston, July 27.—Two persons were burned and a room was demolished by a gasoline explosion on the fourth floor of an apartment house at 1100 Beacon street, Brookline, shortly before noon yesterday.

The injured were James Montague, the janitor of the building, and Miss Mary O'Neil, a servant. The explosion was heard nearly a quarter of a mile away and there was excitement for a few minutes.

Montague was at work in the building, cleaning one of the rooms with gasoline. In the next room Miss O'Neil was ironing. In this room was a gas heater, and it is believed that the flames of the gas stove caused the explosion.

The plaster of the room was destroyed and several panes of glass in the room were knocked out in the street. The screen on one of the buildings was knocked into the street some distance away.

Fire broke out immediately, and after considerable difficulty Montague, by the use of a pail of water, succeeded in checking it.

Miss O'Neil got some burns. She was taken to the Massachusetts General hospital in the police ambulance and, after having her wounds treated, was taken home. The damage to the room amounted to about $250.

MUST TRY AGAIN.

Berger Says Jeffries Has Got to Square Himself.

New York, July 27.—"We want to see Jim try again," said Sam Berger, Jeffries' manager, here yesterday from Chicago with Jack Gleason, the fight promoter. "Tremendous pressure is being brought to bear upon him," Berger said. "All we ask is that he face John again and show the form he did at his California training camp. Jeff has simply got to square himself with his friends and backers."

Berger first declared it was too soon to talk about another fight. Gleason would not commit himself when asked if the promoters of the recent fight were not considering pulling off another Jeffries-Johnson battle in England, France or Australia.

Berger said he was inclined to the mental collapse theory.

REBELLION SCARES CUBA

Uprising in Santiago Province Causes Uneasiness

GOVERNMENT ALARMED.

Government Sends Strong Force in Pursuit of Band of Insurrectionists. Rebels Retreat to Hills Before Government Force.

Havana, July 27.—The government is much alarmed over the insurrection at El Caney, in the province of Santiago de Cuba. Following a midnight council at the palace, troops were rushed to the affected district yesterday.

The insurgents are reported as retreating to the hills, pursued by troops already in the province.

Monday night the government learned that General Miniart and Colonel Jans, revolutionary veterans, had taken to the woods at the head of a score of followers.

Miniart is a man of some force. The counsel of war was hastily called at the palace and the incident thoroughly discussed. It was determined to rush troops to El Caney. Early yesterday morning, trains carrying 1,300 troops, infantry and cavalry, left Camp Columbia under command of General Montegudo of the rural guard.

As strong military forces are already in the province of Santiago, the dispatch of additional troops indicates the government considers the situation grave.

During the forenoon, word was received at the capital that the troops already at El Caney had started in pursuit of the insurgents. The police of Santiago have seized a quantity of arms at the headquarters of the Veterans' club, of which Colonel Jans is the president. The immediate cause of the uprising is not known here, but for several days past rumors have circulated through the province of Santiago of the impending trouble. The rumors were declared by officials of the government to be without foundation.

STOLE JEWELS FOR GIRL.

Bruckton Man Claimed Lost Rings and Gave Them to Sweetheart.

Brookton, Mass., July 27.—Because his sweetheart, a Whitman girl, yearned for jewels, Frank H. Sturgis, 25, of 112 Copeland street, this city, whom the police say is also known as Henry A. Sturgis, was arraigned in police court Monday on a charge of larceny. He pleaded guilty and was fined $25.

Sturgis is employed in a factory, where on June 4 Miss Vattilla Peters lost her purse, containing two rings; one was a wedding ring valued at $8 and the other a gold ring set with an opal, valued at $16. The purse also contained $5.82 in money. One of the workmen of the factory picked up the purse and made inquiries as to the owner. Sturgis is alleged to have claimed it.

Sunday inspector Morley called at the home of Sturgis' sweetheart and demanded of her the rings which Sturgis gave her. She took off two rings, which Miss Peters identified as her property. When confronted with the rings and the girl, Sturgis admitted that he took them and gave them to his sweetheart.

WOMAN SUICIDE AT NIAGARA.

Mme. Cleber, Despondent, Leaps into River.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., July 27.—People who were on the second and third Sister islands just about 5:30 o'clock yesterday saw a woman leap from the rocks into the tumult of waters, going to death in the torrents that swept her over the Horseshoe falls.

The woman was Mme. E. Mary Cleber, aged about 40 years, a widow, who came to Niagara Falls from Wilkesbarre, Pa., about two years ago. She had kept a dressmaking establishment on Third street, and it was said at her shop that she had attempted suicide by inhaling gas. Her morning effort to die was frustrated, but as she was despondent she sought death in the river.

It is likely that the body will be recovered below the falls in a few days.

YOUTHFUL BAD MEN.

Boys Eleven Years Old Committed Six Hundred Burglaries.

Canton, O., July 27.—Because they wanted to be "bad men," and needed money to "treat their sweethearts," John Warner and Raymond Metcalf, each 11 years old, committed 600 burglaries. Arrested here yesterday, after confessing they led the police to a disused coal cellar, where they cached the plunder.

A diamond ring was discovered which they had sold for 20 cents, and a gold watch, which had been disposed of for 15 cents. Their operations extended from East Liverpool to Loraine, and, according to their confession, borne out by police representatives, in one day they entered as many as 75 houses.

BRIDE SHOT, HUSBAND HELD.

Couple Had Quarrelled Frequently, Neighbors Say.

Chicago, July 27.—Mrs. Margaret Baroha, a bride of less than a year, was found shot to death yesterday in her home at Chicago Heights. Her husband, who is said to have been seen leaving the house not long previous, was arrested at Thornton, Ill., in which place he had taken a train. Neighbors told the police that the couple had quarrelled frequently. The prisoner refused to attempt any explanation.

Any woman who possesses a volume of "Mrs. Pinkham's Text Book upon the Ailments Peculiar to Women," has at hand such information as may save her serious illness, or if she is ill it will give her an intelligent understanding of her case and suggest a cure. This valuable 80-page bound text book is not an advertising pamphlet, and is only obtainable by mail or at Mrs. Pinkham's laboratory. It will be mailed in plain envelope absolutely free to any woman who will write to the Lytta E. Pinkham Med. Co., Lynn, Mass., asking for it.

Soak the clothes over-night.

It loosens the dirt and makes the work of washing very much easier.

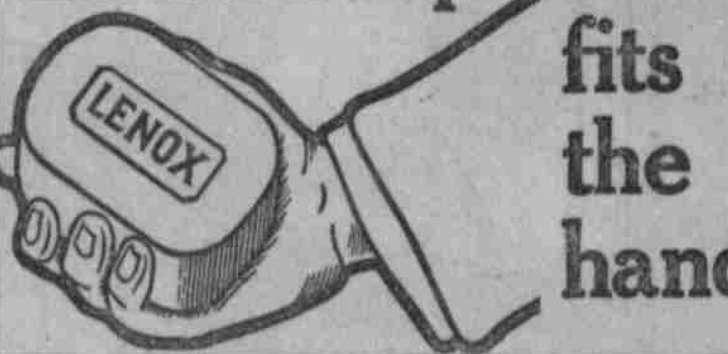

Use three tubs, one for table linen, one for bed and body linen, one for the soiled towels and cloths.

Wet the clothes, rub Lenox Soap Solution over the soiled parts, fold and roll each piece by itself, pack in a tub, cover with warm soapy water and let stand over-night.

TO MAKE LENOX SOAP SOLUTION:—Take a cake of Lenox Soap, cut it into small pieces, dissolve these in three quarts of boiling water. Keep water at boiling point until a solution is formed.

Lenox Soap Solution does better work than soap; and is more economical, because there is no waste.
